MILL VALLEY IS A TOWN OF HOMES,

picturesque homes among trees, fruits, berries, flowers; hidden in wooded canyons; perched on sunny hills. Many and varied are the views from Mill Valley windows—rare vistas of hills and sea, woods and field — pictures that are perfect, painted by nature's brush. Mill Valley has the finest mountain water, fresh and cool, pronounced pure by experts.

MT. TAMALPAIS, beloved by all, seems to belong especially to Mill Valley, nestling at its base. On its slopes lie lakes and streams for sport of anglers and hikers, and the natural amphitheatre site of the famous, annual Mountain Play.

MT. TAMALPAIS AND MUIR WOODS RAILROAD, the "Crookedest Railroad in the World," gives an opportunity to entertain friends with a trip charming and unusual.

MILL VALLEY is beautiful and unique. Guarded by Mt. Tamalpais, it lies among stately redwoods. The town is named from the old saw mill erected by Capt. John Read in 1842.

BUSINESS—There is little that homes or people require that cannot be bought in the business section of Mill Valley.

NEWSPAPER—A well established and progressive newspaper, The Mill Valley Record.

CHURCHES—Churches are well represented.

EDUCATION—Four public schools and two splendid private ones, Tamalpais Union High, Marin Junior College at Kentfield. Within easy commuting distance, are well known military and private schools and colleges, and the State University.

CLIMATE—Mill Valley boasts of her climate. Outdoors may be enjoyed almost every day of the year.

RECREATIONS—A picturesque golf course. Country Club, tennis, horse back riding, inspiring mountain roads, trails, yacht clubs near by. Bathing, fishing at Stinson Beach, a twenty-five minute drive over a fine scenic road.

AUTOMOBILE DRIVES ARE PLENTIFUL—The Redwood Highway leads through the Redwood Empire; the Ridgecrest Boulevard to the top of Mt. Tamalpais; a scenic road to Muir Woods; a panoramic highway to Stinson Beach. Easy driving to the Geysers, the Petrified Forest, through pioneer Sonoma or picturesque Lake and Napa counties.
